To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to recommend Daniel Penz, one of the finest editors with whom I have ever worked.

Daniel is not only exceptionally creative, consistently going above and beyond to make each piece shine, but he is trusted as a producer as well: ensuring excellent pacing as he cuts down sound bites, incorporates nat sound, and uses the most compelling video in every edit. In my experience he has never missed a deadline, even when handed a news package to cut twenty minutes before airtime. Daniel comes through every time.

For several years now, I have trusted Daniel with my most prized stories. His sensibilities as a story-teller make him a critical part of each project I do, when I am fortunate enough to have him assigned to my pieces.

I know I am not alone in saying he is a reporter's dream. When we hand him a tape, script and voice track, we can rest assured knowing Daniel will make the finished project better than ever imagined.

I recommend Daniel Penz without reservation. He would be an asset to any staff.

Sincerely,

Tracy Kornet
