

To whom it may concern,

I've worked with Daniel Penz for over 8 years now, and we've collaborated on countless projects. His editing skills are what you certainly would expect in a top five television market, but where Daniel separates himself from the rest, is his ability to help produce excellence with you as well. He has a great knack for finding that perfect natural sound in all the right spots. Suggesting shots, sound or graphics that always seem to add so much more to the project.

In our tenure together, Daniel has been instrumental in producing award winning work, Emmy and more, on a continuous basis. He is never one to focus on problems, only solutions. A positive attitude when deadlines are looming is another great asset. Daniel stays the course through the end of each project. Early to arrive, and often the last to leave, he is a team player who not only loves his craft, but goes the extra mile for all those around him as well. Daniel Penz comes with my highest recommendation.

Sincerely,

Doug Dunbar
